Having access to personal protective equipment has allowed our industry to move forward and continue to operate. I am excited that the 2021 AWFS Fair will include a SAFETY Pavilion that will highlight exhibitors that are dedicated to the ongoing protection of our industry partners,” Brian Joyce, Vice President of Sales, Blum.

The CWWK seminar program will include sessions that reflect current industry safety needs including perennial topics such as dust collection and overall shop safety as well as newer issues surrounding workforce health and safety.
